Does your business need more than eSignature?

You use eSignature products and they seem to do the job. What's the problem? They do not cover the document lifecycle, leaving it to manual operation. That means time and errors, adding up to costs.

Let's get specific. Here's what is not covered by eSignature products:

- ✓ Assemble the right set of documents for the given case. It may vary by customer or office jurisdictions, type of relations, employee positions, etc.

- ✓ Populate the documents with the data from CRM, ERP, spreadsheets, LOB applications. No, copy/paste is not the right technology.

- ✓ Get the documents to the right people in the right order. This is where dozens of business rules need to be taken into account, like "CFO approves all expenses above $10,000".

- ✓ Update your records once the documents are completed

- ✓ Link the executed documents to the corresponding records.

If any of these ring the bell, it's time to look at document automation. Using a single tool for all document steps ensures nothing falls through the cracks and the whole process runs smoothly. Just make sure it's the right tool. Using airSlate Workflow, you may automate the document processes in hours, providing unprecedented ROI and just removing a big burden from your shoulders.
